

I am submitting my comment here in opposition to RM-10740 (bandwidth limitations). Part of Amateur Radio is experimentation and this type of rule making would have a severe impact on that. In my opinion, if there is anything that clutters up the bands is contesting. But that is tolerated because that is also a part of the experimentation process. Edward Keyes KB1HVS